SELBSTPORTRAT
Seung youn Lee
Ich komme aus Gangam, einem Stadtteil von Seoul.
Dort gibt es Gebäude mit 123 Stockwerken.
Aber keine Kühe, Ziegen, Lämmer, Hühner oder Pferde.
Ich konnte diese Tiere hier zum ersten Mal berühren.
Ich esse Rind, Schwein, Lamm, Käse, trinke Milch – aber
ich war nie mit den Tieren in Kontakt.
Ich esse diese Tiere täglich und verleibe sie mir ein.
Ich fühle eine Million Leben in mir.
Ich werde zu ihnen und sie werden zu mir.
Irgendwann werde ich wieder ein Teil der Natur werden und vielleicht
werden sie mich in sich aufnehmen.
Wir sind alle im Rad der Wiedergeburt.
Alle Tiere in diesen Zeichungen sind auf ihrer eigenen Reise hin zu ihrem Verschwinden.
Manchmal ist das traurig.
Manchmal ist das beruhigend.
Ich zeichne Tiere, aber sie sind mehr als Tiere.
Weil wir alle im Rad der Wiedergeburt sind.
Ich zeichne mich, Ich zeichne dich, Ich zeichne alle anderen, Indem ich Tiere zeichne.
Seung youn lee ist eine Kunstlerin aus Seoul. Sie interessiert sich fuer die verborgenen Geschichten von Orten. Mythologie, Sagen und Legenden sind die Quellen ihrer Inspiration.Sie ist Teil eines Kunstlerduos, das sich "The Bite Back Movement" nennt.

With the summer heat, comes the season for drying hot chilly peppers. Almost every sidewalk in Jung-gu was covered in a large net or a piece of cloth with fresh hot peppers on top of it, sitting in the sun for days, until they turn brown and brittle. Restaurants and houses dry them to make the chilly powder and chilly past, both are necessary ingredients for making spicy soup, kimchi and other pickled vegetables.

In preparation for my exhibition opening, I had to run back and forth between Incheon and Seoul to source some materials for my work, during which I had the chance to visit the ‘flip Book’ exhibition at the Ilmin museum and the National Museum of Modern and Contemporary Art Seoul (MMCA) for the Akram Zaatari show and the archival exhibition of ‘Experiments in Art and Technology’ (E.A.T) group.

After my exhibition I went with my friends on a trip to ‘Incheon General Fish Market,’ to celebrate my residency and exhibition coming to an end. We first strolled down the market and checked out the different sections the market had to offer: the fresh fish, the dried fish and seaweed and the shredded seafood in chilly sauce sections. Each section is divided into subsections with the shops having their own specialties. We then picked the fish we wanted cleaned and cut and sat inside one of the booths in the market to eat the raw neatly sliced fish. We had made the decision earlier that I was to try the Skate ray fish, the 2nd most pungent fish in the world, as I was told. In my home country we have the Ancient Egyptian tradition of salting grey mullet fish (Feseekh) and fermenting it in the sun, a dish that can cause food poisoning and in some cases death. But still Egyptians insist on eating the very smelly dish, soaked in oil and lemon every year around springtime. The tradition comes as part of our celebration of 'Sham El Nesseem,' which signifies the beginning of the spring season based to the Coptic calendar.

I had noticed since I arrived to Jung-gu, Incheon the difference in architecture between the Japanese and Chinese areas, which clearly set them apart. However, my friend Ho-young during a walk together, as I was bidding Jung-gu one of many good-byes, showed me a very subtle difference that was to determine which territory belonged to whom during their reining times. The stairs leading up to Freedom Park and in between Chinatown and the Japanese street are lined on each side with a different style of lights. The differences are so subtle yet so clear to the trained eye. I had never noticed them until Ho-Yong pointed them out, then they became too clear.

On the day of what was expected to be the strongest Typhoon in the last few years in South Korea, I was to take my bags and visit Seoul for a week, and so I did… My visit was very full, and I got to experience Seoul with more depth. I had the chance to visit more galleries, museums, monuments, stores, traditional and contemporary Korean restaurants, cafes; I enjoyed some walks around the city, etc. Among my most memorable experiences was my visit to 'Jogyesa' temple during a large Monk Rally. The Monks were chanting outside the temple while surrounded by an exuberant number of policemen. My understanding was that they were protesting the doings and corruption of some of the elder Monks in the Organization, and asking for reform. Another impressive stop was Paju book city, a cultural complex famous for publishing and editing books and making movies. The architecture of the area was impressive; it looked like a future city with its creative contemporary buildings.

My stay in Korea had been sweet and short. It may seem like a long time, but when you are busy working and trying to explore a new place and culture, time flies by so quickly. My experience in Korea in general and Jung-gu, Incheon specifically seemed so magical. To me, Jung-gu, Incheon seemed like it belonged to different places at different times, a complex yet very welcoming place. I have a feeling I am to return back to Korea, and when I do, Jung-gu, will be one of my stops for it has been my home for almost 3 months.

Incheon has been my home for almost two months now. Jung-gu, Incheon has had this effect on me that makes it hard to exit the area and roam around in other places, the nature of the architecture and elevation separates it from the surrounding areas and gives you the feeling that it is on top of the world, a fantastic small world. In Ancient Egyptian art making traditions; every artwork was made as a representation of the world. Meaning, you would have the earth line (‘Geb’ the Earth God) the Skyline (‘nut’ the sky goddess) and the pillars, to support the structure of that world, and together they conceive the world in between. Whatever existed outside the peripheries of such world did not matter as much. This is how I have come to perceive Jung-gu, Incheon thus far.

Any foreigner who comes to Korea learns immediately that eating out is much cheaper that cooking at home, thus comes my everyday experience with Korean food in Incheon. At first I used to pick from photos or order things randomly. Now, I am more acquainted with the local dishes and restaurants. I now get to pick and choose whether I feel like having Acorn noodle soup (Muk), cold Acorn soup with rice, Korean pie—which is also is made out of acorn— Spicy Beef stew, Chinese food that was first invented in Korea such as the soy bean noodles. Janchi gooksoo noodles, bimbap, bibimbap or Grilled fish with so many side dishes that combined would make a full main dish. Unlike what I expected, coffee—in the western sense—is much more common in Korea than any other place I have visited before. Hence, I began to introduce residents of the area or visitors to my studio to Arabic coffee, which we also call Turkish coffee. This coffee, which we usually drink at local coffee shops in the streets of Cairo, consists of very fine coffee grind and cardamom spice. The reaction to the taste here has varied from really appreciating it to absolutely not. I then tell people while drinking it stories about how people, a few decades ago used to read the future of a coffee drinker in their porcelain cup or as we call it ‘Fengan.’ I also tell them about the five different names we have for the coffee as the amount of sugar changes.

This time my visit to Gnghwa Island was to conduct a workshop of linocut on So-change fabric at the So-chang experience center. Ganghwa island feels like a coastal city, always more relaxed than the mainland. But getting access to the island is very challenging, especially to a non-Korean speaker. Once I got there I was welcomed as usual by the very friendly residents, even though they were busy preparing for Sedaereul Itta festival, a festival that is part of a series of festivals taking place this year. We had a 3-hour workshop, during which the participators made a Korean and Arabic sign of the word So-change surrounded by linocut designs of their own. The target of the workshop was to show appreciation for an old tradition that is worth maintaining, which is that of the So-chang. In my home country, what was once the best and most expensive cotton in the world has been replaced by imported cheap cotton and local farmers are sometimes forced into terminating their activity for the rich to make money off of imported goods. However, I feel there is still a chance to help save the So-chang fabric in Ganghwa Island. When introducing the history of the So-Chang fabric, the participators who all live on the island, were not totally familiar with it. Their only knowledge of it was of the fabric being used as baby diapers. I also learnt from them that it is mostly sold through the factories in large amounts, which makes it less accessible to the public.

Afterwards, the organizers took me for Noodles with anchovy soup (Janchi gooksoo) and then we headed to a place I was looking forward to visit since I heard about its opening a month ago, the ‘Joyang Bangjik’ café. The oldest factory in South korea, which was transformed into a coffee shop, which also happens to be a So-change factory.

The café was overwhelming as it is owned and ran by an antique collector, the detail in every corner and the size were breathtaking. The space had old sewing machines from the factory that still had their manuals in the drawers. Every part of it was well preserved and complemented with artworks and artifacts, within a contemporary setting

I arrived to Jung-gu a little over a month ago to the beautiful architecture of Incheon art platform. Since the first day, I encountered a familiar yet foreign feeling. Perhaps the familiarity stems from the similarity I find in some of the customs we have in Egypt. Or perhaps in the visuals I came across in the contemporary household in Korea, or the images I saw in the museum of culture in Jung-gu. The foreign feeling however, I believe comes from the Language barrier. It is the first time I visit a place where I can’t read the alphabet. All countries I visited before either spoke Arabic, which is my first language, or used Latin alphabet.

The other reason for those foreign feelings stems from the serenity I detect here. Egypt for as long as I can remember has been filled with suppressed anger due to the deteriorating living conditions. While Canada, which is my current place of residence, seems to burden its residents with an unjustifiable stress pattern, especially in the city of Toronto, where I reside. However, Incheon for me is the definition of a peaceful environment.

I find comfort in being in a culturally rich and historical place such as Jung-gu. It provides layers and layers to explore and encompass the space with warmth, something that I really miss in Canada. When I take a walk up Freedom Park and look at the port or when I take a walk down Jemullyang-ro which I now know by heart, new details catch my attention every time and stir thoughts in me. I now walk around and greet people, I first stop by the chicken noodle place around the corner, then the café opposite from it, then the traffic policeman across from the flower shop and the bar owner and her daughter who made me a beef stew the first day I arrived, and afterwards I head to my destination. Each one of them has become part of my life here in Jung-gu.

Incheon and the open port

I wanted to learn about the culture in Incheon, to get a better understanding of what I am lacking because of language, but I was unable to find any English literature about the city. So, I began to read the city and the culture though the visuals and through talking to the few people who speak English. There is a sense of humbleness that I feel here, which I believe comes from the fact that this place has witnessed so much history.

I have this connection to water that compels me to seek the view of the sea, ocean, lake or river, wherever I am. My father is from a city of the Mediterranean, and I grew up in Cairo where the image of the Nile River while crossing the main bridge above Cairo was a daily encounter for me. However, the port here seems so close yet so far away, inaccessible to me till now. Still, I am in search for a clear and close viewing point.

A trip to Ganghwa Island

I began to compose a visual story for my project at the residency about Jung-gu specifically and Incheon in general. I was in search for fabric that is made in the area, and I found out about the So-Chang fabric, a 100% cotton fabric, that is local to Ganghwa Island. With about 10 factories out of 200 left that have carried on from one generation to the other. The So-Chang industry, defies time and our modern consumerist patterns.

Suri, a coordinator from Cheongpoong team (a team that organizes cultural events and promotes the work of Ganghwa Island artisans) guided and accompanied me throughout the whole trip. First, we began at the salted fish market, where I was treated to a tasty Japanese Sardinella(UM) Pizza, which reminded me of the salted fish we eat in Egypt (usually in celebration of Spring time as per the Ancient Egyptian calendar.) Then we visited the So-Change experience center, where I played with stamps they have of local birds and products on the fabric and watched a documentary about the history of So-Chang. Then after having ‘Mugwort’ tea (ssook) and given so many souvenirs (Seon-mool.) I was driven to the factory, where the center gets their So-Chang. The factory has been working for four generations. The meticulousness of the steps of production, the visual of the beautiful well-crafted machines along with the surrounding landscape and the eagerness of the residents to tell me about the many uses of the So-Chang fabric was overwhelming. I returned back to Incheon Art Platform with so much fabric for my project at the residency.

Images from Jung-gu

My experience in Jung-gu is based mostly on simple interactions with the people and on a variation of visuals that I will not forget. Sitting in the subway reading Han Kang’s, ‘The Vegetarian’and walking around to select my next dining experience. Exploring the Korean cuisine and the different fusions. Listening to the street vendorscalling for their merchandise and thinking of the Robabekya (old furniture) vendor that I have so many times woken up to in the morning in Cairo. Talking to the people with my hands and one or two English words that they know and appreciating their patience in dealing with a non-Korean speaker. Watching the fishing net hung between the trees on my way to the subway station and remembering the image of fishermen weaving their nets between the trees in Alexandria. All those memories and many more shall become part of my thoughts and future reminiscences.
